In 1945, our founder, Monsignor John Patrick Carroll-Abbing, founded Boys' & Girls' Towns of Italy in Rome and in Civitavecchia to provide "a chance in life" to the homeless children living on the streets of post-World War II Italy. He believed that if young people were supported to take responsibility for their lives and their communities, they would grow into caring, self-sufficient adults. Self-government has been the source of success at our Towns for over 70 years.

Today in our Towns in Italy, we empower poor, refugee and migrant youth. Children who have escaped war, poverty and persecution now live together and run their own Town. In the last four years, A Chance In Life has expanded its programs to South Asia and Northeast Africa. Boys’ & Girls’ Towns of Ethiopia is changing the lives of 400 young people in one of the poorest countries in the world. Boys' & Girls' Towns of India is helping over 1,000 children, mostly girls, to receive the support they need to stay in school. Last year, our Board approved the expansion of our programs to support more than 1,700 marginalized children in Peru, Bolivia, Colombia and Guatemala.

As our family of Towns grows, A Chance In Life's large and loyal community of American donors continues to honor the vision of our founder. Over the last seven decades, generous donors like you have given a chance in life to more than 35,000 young people. Thank you!
